

"A great job with the installation of the buxus, they are great specimens and look really good in the pots. I am very pleased with the interior plants and containers and thus far the feedback has been very positive for both these and the beautiful floristry displays."

BACKGROUND

Common to both Tivoli and PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) are the core principles of building lasting relationships with clients and focusing on delivering value. On this basis, Tivoli has been working in partnership with the firm delivering interior and exterior planting and floristry since 2006.

PwC is a global professional services firm - the world's largest measured by revenue and forerunner of the "Big Four" accountancy practices. It has offices across 154 countries and employs over 175,000 people.

PROJECT

The contract is for the supply and maintenance of plants, both interior and exterior, together with floristry services for over approximately 40 sites located nationally including the iconic 7 More Place building in London, which is PwC's prestigious UK Headquarters.

Areas comprise receptions, client meeting rooms, rooftop balconies, window boxes and ground floor externals. Displays range from floor standing and exterior, orchid bowls and fresh flowers to seasonal planting.

On completion of its flagship headquarters, PwC tasked Tivoli with a design brief that would not only support their sustainability values, but also make best use of the stunning views over the River Thames and Tower Bridge located adjacent to their offices. To this end Tivoli and PwC sourced plants in partnership with a trip to the Dutch nursery of Nieuwkoop where, with expert input from Tivoli, species were sympathetically chosen to seamlessly integrate with the interior design, enhance the spectacular views and provide environmental benefits. The planting was complemented with the use of modern advanced composite plastic containers, which meant that Tivoli was able to replicate the Pantone Grey of the PwC logo to deliver a complete design solution.

RESULT

Since 2006, Tivoli has:

- Managed 40 PwC sites nationwide
- Achieved substantial savings without reducing service levels via Tivoli's flexible use of resources and adaptability
- Maximised the aesthetics of 7 More Place through effective implementation of interior and exterior planting
- Supplied PwC with all of its seasonal Christmas trees with decorations on a national basis
- Established a true partnership approach with PwC.
