

CASE STUDY

"We're thrilled for Tivoli to win an award for helping to bring our new experience space to life with such creative landscaping. We wanted Samsung KX to feel like a home for our guests, where they can relax and enjoy themselves in a natural environment. Tivoli not only executed wonderful displays for us, but they have been maintained to an extremely high standard and it's been a pleasure to work with them."

BACKGROUND

Tivoli is a long established award-winning company with national coverage and an extensive client base throughout the UK. Our numerous interior plant and floristry accolades include 12 Royal Horticultural Society medals, two Principal BALI Awards; and 12 Plants@Work awards for design, installation and maintenance of the interior landscape.

Tivoli deliver interior planting and maintenance services for Samsung via their partnership with ISS Facility Services.

PROJECT

The Samsung KX experience space is a new 20,000 square foot venue in Coal Drops Yard, King's Cross, London which offers a range of experiences, events and workshops. It is a place of discovery to experience the latest in culture and innovation, powered by Samsung technology.

The interior planting scheme, designed and installed at Samsung KX by Tivoli's Account Manager Madeleine Evans and team, is both natural and contemporary with a domestic feel to mirror the areas that have been created to reflect rooms of a home. Tivoli worked closely to develop the client brief and ensure that the finished product met all of Samsung's requirements for look and feel, including leaf shapes, textures and colours, as well as environmental benefits.

Over 80 live plant displays were installed in the scheme. Madeleine said: "We are very proud of the design and hope that it is being enjoyed by visitors and staff alike. It's an honour to work in partnership with Samsung to create the ideal interior environment for their venue."

RESULT

Tivoli were presented with a Gold Leaf Award at the Plants@Work 2020 virtual awards ceremony, for the design and installation of the interior planting scheme at Samsung KX.

The Plants@Work Industry Awards in Interior Landscape Excellence are designed to recognise and reward quality and workmanship and create a benchmark of excellence in the industry. They identify the teams and individuals that are performing their functions to the highest possible standards for their clients.

Darren Cunningham, Tivoli's Chief Executive said: "Achieving a Gold Leaf Award gives us the chance to celebrate the skills, hard work, and quality of our teams within the industry. A huge well done to everyone involved in this impressive project."
